MIDTERM GRADES

- The mean on exam 1 was 53% and the high was 90%.

- In Blackboard, you will find

  1. a column with your current HW average
  2. a column with your estimated current grade. Exam 1 and HW were weighted equally.
  3. a column titled 'Withdrawal likely'
     - If you see a 'Y' in this column, you (with high probability) will be withdrawn.
     - If you see a 'M' in this column, this stands for 'Maybe.' You should seriously consider the possibility of withdrawing.

- If you scored below a 60% on exam 1, you should seriously consider withdrawing. If you continue in this class, you need to find extra help to be successful. There are many options: tutoring, Math Lab, etc., but the reality is that you will only pass this course if you radically change your study habits and the amount of work you put into this class. Be forewarned: if you do not change your study habits, you will not pass.

  As a reminder, you will NOT pass this class, if you earn less than 60% on the final exam.

- Midterm grades will be posted to UAOnline by Friday.
